Descriptif produit

The kit is the must for your vlogging or telecommuting sessions

A multi-purpose support: Vlogging and Teleworking

The ring light is the essential accessory when it comes to photography or video. But it will also make you look good during your meetings or video interviews. Indeed, the ring light improves the brightness of your renderings, by removing the shadow areas. You can attach it directly to your desk, and make your video calls from your smartphone. It will allow you to easily create and capture stunning photos and videos to develop your social networks, Twitch channel or simply ensure quality lighting for your video conferences.

3 levels of LED intensity

Adjust the brightness of your videos, using the right intensity and adapt to each situation. The 3 levels of brightness are perfect for shooting video or photos in any situation, even in the darkest rooms in your home. The Ring Light provides extra illumination for photography and video when you encounter low light conditions.

Removable arm and adjustable phone holder

This Ring Light features an extendable arm up to 53 cm so you can easily adjust it to any position. Choose the right height when taking pictures or recording video. For added convenience, you can adjust your phone to your preferred position. The phone stand supports both horizontal and vertical use.

Clamp attachment

Attach the ring light wherever you like with its clip-on attachment. With its convenient size, it fits firmly on the edge of a table or on your desk. Its rubber coating is effective in gripping surfaces, so the ring light will stay firmly attached to your stand.

Control buttons

This light ring ensures convenient operation, thanks to the remote control with control buttons integrated into the cable. With a simple push of the button, you can turn the light on/off, change the lighting, choose the color temperature, and much more.

Easy to use

Powered by an integrated USB cable, the use of this ring light is simple and intuitive. You just have to place your phone between its arms and then connect the cable to an external USB source. This ring light then turns on.
