Informations complémentaires

Protect your phone and the planet

2 billion plastic phone cases are sold each year. Unfortunately, many of those cases end up in nature. The negative environmental impact of phone cases is real.

dbramante1928 work to reduce plastic pollution by replacing single-use plastic products with products made from recovered and recycled materials. And we do so without compromising on quality, functionality and design. Let's make a positive impact together.

With guidance from WWF, we work towards becoming climate positive.
